Editor's Voice

As we welcome the New Year it gives me great pleasure to see the various partnerships and alliances that are now coming up at Prasad. Prasad Corp continues to extend its reach and establish its position as a leading and trusted provider of digitization, and related services all over the World.

In the educational front LVPA has extended itself to a completely revamped Class Rooms, Edit Lab and Library with modern amenities in the Lab Campus. This is besides the new fully air-conditioned Shooting Floor with LED Lighting Grid in the studio campus. At this juncture we have new Director of Academics stepping in to be part of our effort to take L.V.Prasad Film & TV Academy to the next level. LVPA is undergoing expansions and reorganization of its structure to achieve this goal. Several new short term courses are on the anvil for the ensuing months. Our admissions for the Academic year starting August 2019 are set to open and we are looking forward to a glorious year ahead.
